3. How can I enroll in courses in the new airLearning system?

- Log in to your account in ASRM and go to "Find a Course"
<https://store.asrm.org/Learn/FindACourse.aspx>
- You cannot repeat a course that you previously took in the old system (ASRM eLearn®).

5. What courses are in the new airLearning system?

- All ASRM's current online courses are available in airLearning.
- To select a new course, log in to your account in ASRM and go to "Find a Course"
<https://store.asrm.org/Learn/FindACourse.aspx>

6. What is different about the airLearning system?

- Courses are accessible through any device (desktop/tablet/smartphone)
- Course progress is intuitive, with "Next" buttons to move you to the next part of a course.
- Your test answers can be reviewed after submission.
- Course progress markers indicating what you have completed.
- For multiple module courses, you take a post-test after completing each module, rather than a large final exam. Module post-test scores are compiled to calculate your final score for the course.

Questions about Previous Course Enrollments (in ASRM eLearn®)

1. How do I find a course I've already enrolled in?

- Courses you enrolled in before January 15, 2018 (ASRM eLearn®) are here <https://store.asrm.org/Learn/MyCourses.aspx>
- Courses you enrolled in after January 15, 2018 will be in airLearning (<http://airlearning.asrm.org/>).

2. Will my course be affected by the change to airLearning?

- If you enrolled in a course before January 15, 2018, your course progress will not be affected. You can continue to access your course through ASRM eLearn® until July 1, 2018. After July 1st, you will not be able to complete the course or access the course materials.

3. I enrolled in a course before January 15, 2018 in ASRM eLearn®. How long do I have to complete it?

- If you enrolled in a course before January 15, 2018, you have until July 1, 2018 to complete it. After that date, you will not be able to complete the course or access the course materials. No partial credit will be awarded.
